The Office of Petroleum Administration for War has issued a directive as of January 19, 1943, providing that service stations or any individual, partnership, association, business trust, and corporation maintaining a retail outlet where motor fuel is sold at retail shall not be permitted directly or indirectly to grant or accept, or participate in the granting or accepting of credit in connection with the sale of any petroleum product by or through any retail outlet. However, this ruling does not apply to the sale of any petroleum product to the United States, any state or territory of the United States, or any political subdivision of any state, or the District of Columbia, or where it is used exclusively by the political subdivision for its own use.

Nor shall it apply to the sale of petroleum products used in motor boats used for commercial purposes or for use in motor vehicles displaying "T" ration stickers, this last applying to trucks that have "T" ration cards.

However, the retail merchant is allowed to distribute coupons or script books which he can sell to customers for cash and they in turn can use the coupons for the purchase of petroleum products.

Administrative Order No. 4 of the Petroleum Administration for War issued on January 18th and now in effect provides that service stations cannot deliver motor fuel during more than 12 hours of any calendar day or during more than 72 hours of any calendar week with the following exceptions:

The stations may also deliver at any time into the tank of any motor vehicle displaying a "T" ration sticker in accordance with provision of Rationing Order No. 5C where the following provisions are fully complied with:

A. Service stations shall at all times remain open to sell and deliver motor fuel.

B. For the same twelve consecutive hours of the calendar day and for not more than 72 hours during any calendar week, such service stations shall deliver motor fuel to any person requesting motor fuel in accordance with Rationing Order No. 5C:

During all the remaining hours of each day of each week, such service stations shall deliver motor fuel only to motor vehicles displaying "T" ration stickers.

Each service station shall post prominently in a conspicuous place a notice of the hours during which motor fuel will be regularly delivered by such service station and where the service station owner elects to remain open in order to service vehicles displaying "T" rationing cards, he shall post prominently and very clearly the hours during which motor fuel will be delivered only to motor vehicles displaying "T" ration stickers and the hours so designated shall remain in effect for a period of not less than thirty consecutive days and shall not be changed during such period. In all other cases, the hours selected and posted shall remain in effect at least seven consecutive days and shall not be changed during this period.

These regulations are put in effect by the Petroleum Administration in order that adequate supplies of petroleum for military and other essential purposes may be had.

The service stations in Bay St. Louis and Hancock are now following these orders, and will remain open no longer than twelve hours per day or 72 hours per week for the serving of motor vehicles for private use.

Colored Registrants Ordered To Report For Induction

Colored Registrants ordered to report for induction on February 4th, at Bay St. Louis Courthouse at 8 a. m.

Percy Hawthorne, Albert McNeil Parker, Elmo Palmer, John Henry Bonner, Julius Wilson.

VICTORY GARDEN PLANS DISCUSSED AT MEETING

Appropo of the war time slogan "A garden for every family," and with the latter part of January and early February as the time specified for planting vegetable gardens in Mississippi, the Hancock County Gardening Committee met with County Agent Charles Stone and Home Demonstration Agent Eleanor Smith and members of the Office of Civilian Defense on Tuesday afternoon to further plans for interest in Victory or War Gardens in Bay St. Louis and Hancock County.

Mr. Stone told of the national plan which will include arrangements for and committees on production, Victory garden shows and youth leaders, and read suggestions from the Mississippi State Extension which were adopted at the meeting.

Mr. George R. Rea stated that through the Block System of the Civilian Defense Office the information assembled on gardening, and a questionnaire which will be sent to everyone interested in gardening, literature will be circulated.

Mrs. Rea also stated that Civilian Defense regulations included in the requirements for a home to be rated as a "V" home that a Victory garden be grown wherever there was suitable space.

Mr. Al Voight stated that Mar. 15 to 20th would be designated as Victory Garden Week.

In order to assist anyone desiring to plant a garden, there were planned three classes of an hour's duration in which lessons on preparation of soil, gardening and preservation will be given, and it was stated that certificates of merit will be awarded by the Mississippi State Extension of State College for the best gardens grown.

With the rationing of all foods in the very near future, it will be necessary for people to grow and produce foods in order to be properly fed. Our government plans for next year that one million pounds of vegetables and fruits will be destroyed for the use of our armed forces and the U. S. Department of Agriculture stated recently, "that military and lend-lease needs for food will be one-half again as great as they were in 1942 and that will be about one-fifth of our total production," hence we may readily see the need for producing food for ourselves.

Bay High Band Sells $3,029.85 in War Bonds And Stamps

The Bay High Band has sold $3,029.85 in stamps and bonds in two weeks of their house-to-house campaign. They have added several streets since they started on January 14. The streets that have been added are: St. Charles, Third Duane, and street in Cedar Point.

There are now ten crews working on the streets of Bay St. Louis every Monday and Thursday. The members of the Band wish to thank the citizens for their kindness and courtesies afforded them on their routes, also the people calling the crews to get their bonds.

Believe it or not, it is a great thrill to sell a bond for Uncle Sam, knowing that each stamp and bond helps to stamp out the Axis.

Death of Emile Carvin

Emile Carvin, 70 years of age, died at the King's Daughters Hospital here on Tuesday after a long illness. Funeral services were conducted from the Fahey Funeral Home on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. Father Wm. Clarke officiating and interment was in Cedar Rest Cemetery.

Mr. Carvin was unmarried and leaves two brothers, Alphonse Carvin of Biloxi and Daniel Carvin of Gulfport. Another brother, John Carvin of this city died recently.

He leaves four nephews, sons of his only sister, the late Mrs. Elmer Bourgeois, Steve, Leo, Kearney and Geoffrey Bourgeois all of whom are in the services.

TRAINING AS RANGER

PRIVATE ROY THIGPEN

Private Roy Thigpen, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Thigpen of Aaron Academy is a member of Co. A, 593rd Boat Regiment, and is stationed at the Amphibious Training Center, Camp Carrabelle, Florida.

TO RAISE FUNDS FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS FUND

January 30th is President Roosevelt's birthday, and each year in every hamlet, town and city of the United States it is celebrated with dances and parties, the proceeds of which are given over to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis Fund.

This fund maintains the large sanitarium and medical baths at Warm Springs, Georgia, where thousands of patients ranging from the very young to older persons, victims of infantile paralysis. Here many are brought from all parts of our country also through assistance received from the funds collected for fighting this dread disease and in thousands of cases are cured or greatly relieved, and returned to their homes in much improved physical condition.

Part of the total of all funds collected for the National Infantile Paralysis Fund are retained by the local organization.

This year Mrs. Stella Gex and Miss Miriam Engman are in charge of the collection of funds and are appealing to the public for generous offerings to aid the annual "March of Dimes" collection.

Because of war conditions and the inability to secure a band, the usual President's Birthday Ball has been dispensed with. However, a group of young people, members of the high school crowd, known as the Moron Club, are sponsoring a dance to be given at St. Joseph Auditorium this Saturday, January 30th, at 8 P. M., admission to which will be 50c per couple and 75c for single.

Everyone is urged to attend and assist with this collection for such an excellent cause.

The usual collection known as "Wishing Wells" will be held before a number of business places and public buildings with a large number of our local women and girls in charge and it is hoped that a nice sum will be realized from this source.

Also all school principals in the city and county schools have been requested to aid in this worthy cause and seek a collection among the school children.

Bay St. Louis each year has contributed its share to this most worthy fund and it is expected that in spite of the many calls made upon the public at this time, it will live up to its usual reputation for going over the top, so don't fail to attend the dance or contribute to the National Fund for Infantile Paralysis.

R. E. A. Employees Volunteer For Blood Bank

All eligible members of the staff of the Coast Electric Power Association (R. E. A.) have volunteered 100 per cent through the Civilian Defense Office for donations of blood for the Red Cross Blood Bank.

Those volunteering are: Cliff Ferrell, Josie S. Blaize, Gladys W. Chapman, John Egloff, Arthur M. Miller, Ernest J. Henley.

The only R. E. A. employee not listed is ineligible because of age.

HOME GROWN FRUIT

Home grown fruits will be more valuable than ever this year due to transportation difficulties, needs for canned and dried products in the war effort, rationing of canned products and nutritional requirements on the home front. Existing orchards should be given extra care and attention to insure maximum production, high quality and minimum waste of fruit. New plantings, particularly of small fruits, are needed. Such small

Philippines

The long awaited lists of civilian internees held at Santo Tomas by the Japanese have begun to arrive. The first list of 201 internees, whose names begin with A and B, was received on November 21, 1942. The next list of 492 internees, including names beginning with B, C, D, and E, was received on December 8th. The part of the list beginning with E is incomplete. In addition, lists of 438 names of captured army officers in the Philippines had been received by December 12th. The prison camp in which three officers are held is not given. It is hoped that additional lists will soon be received which will include the names of all prisoners and internees in the Islands. The Departmental agencies of the Government will, of course, notify the next of kin as rapidly as information becomes available.

The Packing Center

The American Red Cross has established its first prisoners of war parcel packing center in Philadelphia. It is planned that the plant will begin operation in January, and that approximately 100,000 parcels a month will roll off the assembly line, which will be manned by women volunteers from Philadelphia and surrounding communities.

A three story building has been remodeled for the use of the packing center. The supplies of various items will be warehoused on the third floor. The packing assembly line will be set up on the second floor, together with a sufficient supply of the various items for the day's packing. Laborers will steadily replenish items on the work tables, from which a volunteer packer will place an individual item in each parcel, as the conveyor carries it past her. Each package contains the following items:

- 16 oz. tin of whole powdered milk
  - 9 oz. package of processed American cheese
  - 16 oz. tin of oleomargarine (fortified with vitamin A)
  - 12 oz. tin of pork luncheon meat
  - 12 oz. tin of corned beef
  - 6 oz. tin of liver paste
  - 8 oz. tin of salmon
  - 16 oz. package of dried prunes
  - 4 oz. tin of orange concentrate
  - 7 oz. package of biscuits
  - 8 oz. (2 bars) chocolate, ration D
  - 8 oz. package of white lump sugar
  - 4 oz. tin soluble coffee
  - 1/4 oz. package black pepper
  - 2 bars of hard white soap
  - 4 packages of cigarettes (20 in ea.)
- The gracles pass through the sealing machine, and drop through a chute to the first floor, where they are loaded aboard a ship that takes them directly to Lisbon, where they will be transhipped to boats flying the International Red Cross Committee flag and taken to Marseille or Genoa. Then they are forwarded to Genoa for distribution to the prison camps in Europe.

The Hundredth Relief Voyage Of the International Fleet

The International Red Cross Committee announced recently that the S/S Ambroz, one of seven steamers operated by the Red Cross between Lisbon and Marseille, and Lisbon and Genoa, made the 100th voyage carrying prisoners of war supplies in the service which began in 1940.

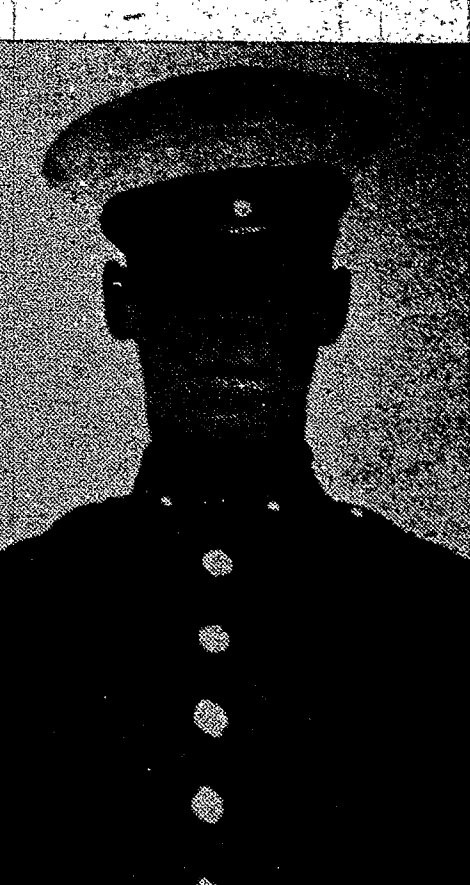

Two of the vessels carry supplies to Genoa for prisoners in Italian hands, and the other five transport the material for men in German camps. The trip to Genoa and back takes 27 days, while the voyage to Marseille and return is made in approximately 23 days.

In the month ending November 20, the American Red Cross received signed receipt cards for 21,157 food parcels, which had been sent to identified Yugoslav, Polish, Norwegian, British, Dutch, French and United States soldiers who had in most instances, received the parcels during May, June and July. These receipts help to answer the oft-repeated question "Do the prisoners really get their parcels?"

With the advice received recently by the family of J. C. Baxter that he is at present a prisoner of war in Japan, and with another of our Hancock County boys, George Curren, presumed to be a prisoner of war, since nothing has been heard from him in such a long time, it is interesting to note that the packages intended for these boys reach them.

Fruits as strawberries, Youngberries, Boysenberries and blackberries may be grown in every garden. These planted this spring will produce delicious fruit the following season—start now to grow your own fruit.

The Echo extends to his family its deepest sympathy.

Death of Captain Samuel Zemurray Shock To Friends Locally

Friends here were shocked at the news of the tragic death of Captain Samuel Zemurray, Jr., who was killed in an airplane crash in Africa. Capt. Zemurray, commanding officer of a United States Air Force squadron was born in Bay St. Louis at the home "Solution" in South Beach recently owned by the late Mrs. John N. Stewart.

Cliff Ferrell Reports On National Rural Electric Association Convention

The first National convention of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, Inc., held in St. Louis, Missouri on January 19 and 20, was a great success and an inspiration to those who attended according to C. C. Ferrell, Superintendent of the Coast Electric Power Association (R. E. A.). Besides business sessions, the theme of the convention was the social and economic benefits of Rural Electrification and public power, such as T. V. A. and Columbia River Power developments and the part these projects are taking in winning the war (Mr. Ferrell states that he was impressed to learn that T. V. A. furnishes the power for the production of 50 percent of the aluminum produced in this country and the Columbia River Authority furnishes power for the production of an additional 25 per cent.)

According to Mr. Ferrell the convention was addressed by many distinguished guests, including Honorable H. H. L. Ickes, Secretary of Interior, Honorable George W. Norris of Nebraska, Honorable Leland Olds, Chairman of the Federal Power Commission. Also several U. S. Senators and Representatives were heard in addition to high officials of R. E. A. and T. V. A.

The highlight of the convention was Mr. Ferrell's opinion and the presentation to him of the Plaque of Honor by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association for outstanding service to rural electrification in 1942, the presentation of a scroll by T. V. A., and the presentation of a fine watch by employees of R. E. A.

The N. R. E. A. convention was followed on January 21 and 22 by a "Food for Victory" War Conference at R. E. A. headquarters. This meeting, took up how electricity and the influence of R. E. A. cooperatives can be used to increase food production. It was addressed by many high officials of the Department of Agriculture, the War Production Board, the Army, and the R. E. A. Colonel Thomas J. Grayson, Assistant Commandant at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri and a native of Mississippi, made a most inspiring talk on "What Global Total War Means."

Mr. Ferrell states that while in St. Louis he learned that certain classes of farmers will now be eligible for electrical connections. Since July 1, 1942 utilities and R. E. A. co-ops have not been allowed to make any extensions except under very limited conditions.

BUD'S LETTER

Dear Red:

Well I have been reading about the war today and have decided I'm not so smart. In the early stages of the war, I was considered the best armchair strategist on my street—but now I'm in ill repute. I knew how to open a second front, how to save Singapore, why France fell—I tell you, Red, there wasn't much I didn't know about it. For a long time I knew the Axis Powers were afraid to hop on the United States.

In other words, I knew everything and the Generals and the Admirals didn't know what they were doing (they didn't pay any attention to me tho' thank goodness). My first lieutenant was my brother-in-law, and we knew how to do this thing right.

The biggest thing that hurt my reputation as a general was the big naval battle in the Coral Sea. (I still can't figure out why I didn't keep my mouth shut and my ears open.) I was right in the middle of a harangue against Admiral Halsey for his lack of seamanship, when a news broadcast flashed our great victory to the world.

Now Red, that is disconcerting enough to usually make a fellow like me quit, but not me—I just kept on. Then something else happened that really knocked me out from under me—that brother of my wife's came by the house that day (I made my usual touch for 10 dollars). I started telling him why we haven't captured Tunis, and if they would listen to me our boys could get the job done in no time at all. (I had it all figured out and was going to make up for my other errors.) A sneer came over that guy's face, and he walked out on me. He says to my wife on the way out—if he is so smart why ain't he rich.

Well Red, since I had made several bad errors in running the war, I decided the best thing to do was quit. My resignation as a general left me with nothing much to do, so my wife made me go to work. Now I'm contributing to the war effort by working and I'm too busy to tell the Generals and Admirals how to do their work. Since I decided to tend to my business and let them tend to theirs the war is going better anyhow. Yours for more planes, tanks, and bullets and less armchair generalship. BUD.

KEEP IT FLYING!

THE WORK OR FIGHT ALTERNATIVE

WORK or fight!

That's the alternative and ultimatum proposed for the striking hard coal miners in Pennsylvania. We have talked about it a lot during the last few months in connection with numerous and defiant strikes in vital war industry.

But talking about it has not scared the strikers a bit. In effect, they have defied the government, and have "dared" it to try to "crack down" upon them in that manner.

Representative Colmer of Mississippi thinks the time has come to do just that, and he has put a bill into the legislative hopper in Washington to make it mandatory. Colmer's bill would make men who participate in a strike or slow-down subject to immediate draft. And he wants an immediate showdown.

His bill has some other teeth in it, also. He proposes a punishment of $2,000 fine and two years imprisonment for anyone responsible for a strike or slowdown in the production of war materials.

We have said before that we have coddled these strikers too long.

This great strike of more than eighteen thousand hard coal miners is one of the fruits of that coddling. Whether or not the threat of draft would send them back to work in the mines, it still remains a sound principle that they should "work or fight."

—Rock Hill, So. Carolina, Evening Herald, Jan. 21, 1943.

Editor's Note:—

Congressman Colmer's contention has been that men engaged in defense work or industry essential to defense have no more right to strike, than the boys in service have a right to desert.

He is correct in trying to have a law passed to cure this evil. How far he will be able to go, remains to be seen. The administration will probably try the strangle hold on him as they have on others, who dared to have anti-strike legislation enacted into law. It is high time that the New Dealers realize that labor leaders do not control the votes of the American people; nor do they control the votes of the members of their Union, many of whom feel that they are compelled by their own government to pay Union dues in order to work on defense jobs.

The Southern Congressmen who now hold the balance of Power in Congress should hold the feet of the New Dealers to the fire and give them a dose of their own medicine, and force them to support the Colmer bill, or drive a wedge in all of their legislation that does not directly effect the war effort.

FIVE BROTHERS LOST ON ONE SHIP

THE heaviest blow suffered by any single American family since Pearl Harbor, and probably in our naval history, is that experienced by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Sullivan, of Waterloo, Iowa, who lost five sons when the Cruiser Juneau went down in the blazing battle of Guadalcanal.

The brothers, it is reported, joined the Navy with the provision that they not be separated. Navy officials point out that this violated established policy which divides members of families in wartime service. The idea is to prevent wholesale grief for any family.

The brothers are reported "missing in action" but the possibility exists that one or more of them may have reached an isolated beach following the sinking of their ship in November. Certainly, every American hopes so.

TIME TO HELP

THE right of any business to advance by the initiative of its owner or management operating on a competitive basis, has given this country a merchandising system that is now of incalculable value to consumers in money saved, and in the greater variety and better quality of products and merchandise offered.

Retail stores never before faced such problems as today. Securing goods for distribution requires expert knowledge, heretofore unheard of in this nation.

There is one request that merchants now make of all consumers: Between now and the time full war rationing takes effect late in February, don't hoard. The merchants ask this because they are cooperating with government to the utmost to avoid disruption of consumer supplies. Merchandisers, no matter how efficient, cannot distribute products that don't exist. Lend-Lease and military demands have made deep inroads on supplies of all kinds. It is up to the consumer to cooperate in dividing what is left.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE

CAPTAIN Eddie Rickenbacker, after returning from his grueling experience in the South Seas in his inspection of fighting fronts, is the only man who has said what the American people needed to hear in connection with production problems. In the newspapers and in the news reels he said that if the soldiers could be transferred from the hell holes they occupy on the battlefronts, to our factories, and if the employees in the factories could be transferred to the battlefronts, production in this country would double in thirty days.

By the tone of his voice and his expression, you could see that he was disgusted with the Pollyanna talk about workers at home being classed as filling "battle stations."

Captain Rickenbacker emphasized that nothing the people in this country can do will in any measure equal what the boys on the battle lines are doing. They don't get overtime pay and they work day and night if necessary.

The people agree with Captain Rickenbacker. Just because some of us wear "tin hats" at home, we don't want to become swelled up with the idea that we are filling "battle stations"—we are not. "Battle stations" are where the bullets fly and men are dying; where men work as long as there is something to do; where orders are obeyed; where overtime pay and profits are not an issue; and where the perpetuation of liberty and freedom for the individual are the guiding stars.

"BLACK SWAN" AT
A. & G. THEATRE
SUNDAY AND MONDAY
Is Mighty Adventure Masterpiece—Technicolor
Sea Spectacle

For entertainment at its zenith, be sure to visit the A. & G. Theatre on Sunday and Monday, where "20th Century-Fox" is presenting "Rafael Sabatini's 'The Black Swan.' This Technicolor adventure-triumph, starring Tyrone Power and Maureen O'Hara, is far and away the most outstanding film of its type the screen has seen this or any other season.

Picture, if you will, the entertainment dish that is served Tyrone Power, in our book one of the finest of screen actors by virtue of his ability to do anything and everything extremely well, is in a role that is hand-tailored for him. As Pirate Captain "Jamey" Waring, he gets every opportunity to display those qualities that have kept him at the top of the heap for the last five years. Paired with him in the romance that is smoothly superimposed over the basic adventure story is creamily complexioned, gorgeously appointed Maureen O'Hara. Maureen's a spirited damsel in the film, and it takes a great deal of masterful wooing by the dashing buccaner before she's won over.

This is in addition to the compelling action that dominates the film. The settings are magnificent, replete with sailing vessels whose grace and beauty strikes a responsive chord in everyone's heart.

There's a terrifically suspenseful and realistic duelling sequence between the versatile Power and burly George Sanders; the spectacle of a town being captured by ruthless pirates; and a climactic ship battle that strikes a new high.

20th Century-Fox was taking no chances with "The Black Swan" when it came to casting. They obtained the services of the best there is when it came to supporting actors, including such stand-outs as Laird Cregar, Thomas Mitchell, George Sanders, Anthony Quinn and George Zucco. Producer Robert Bassler turned over the direction to capable Henry King and the smooth flow of the story, coupled with the unusual action sequences point up his choice as wise indeed.

The masterful hand of writer Ben Hecht can be detected in the screen play of Sabatini's great novel, which was cleverly adapted by Seton I. Miller, who also collaborated with Hecht.

Congressional Sidelights
by
Congressman Wm. M. Colmer

The 76th Congress has just about completed its organization. The committee assignments have been made and considerable time has been taken in the setting up of select committees to investigate various phases of the war effort. Most of these latter committees originated by resolutions considered in the Rules Committee. And those of us serving on that Congress justifying the continuation of their committees and the setting up of new ones. There have been some very interesting facts brought out in these hearings. For instance, a select committee was set up within the Military and Naval Affairs Committees of the House for the investigation of extravagance and fraud in the matter of war contracts. The Naval and Military Affairs Committees operating separately at the last session did a splendid job and were able to report to the Rules Committee and the House, as well as the country as a whole, that they had been instrumental in the recapturing of more than two billion dollars from war contractors. It is unfair to say, as was attempted to be shown, that all of this money would have been held by the contractors and the government would not have recaptured any of it had work not been done by these committees, but undersecretary of War Patterson before the Rules Committee testified that these committees had been most helpful to the War Department and that they were entitled to a large part of the credit in saving this huge sum of money to the government.

Of course it must be realized that the War Department in ordering materials for the conduct of the war must do so hurriedly. Frequently they have no yardsticks upon which to base a fair price so they just go ahead and order the construction of a camp, the purchase of war material, or whatever is necessary. Later, and under legislation which the Congress passed at the last session, these contracts are again scrutinized, looking for exorbitant profits, and many of these contracts are renegotiated with the resultant saving of many millions of dollars to the taxpayers.

Speaking of Committees, the Democrats had a real old-fashioned fight among themselves when the House Democrats met in secret caucus a few days ago. Strangely enough the fight was provoked by the desire of the only Labor Member of Congress to become a member of the Judiciary Committee. We refer to one Vito Marcantonio, a Representative from New York. Mr. Marcantonio had the backing of the House leaders, which it is generally understood was in payment of Marcantonio's assistance to certain New York Democrats in the November elections. In view of the fact that Marcantonio is an extreme left-winger and had opposed the enactment of every law and appropriation looking to our national defense prior to Russia's entry into the war, and the further fact that he was particularly obnoxious to most Southern Members, a determined fight was made upon the confirmation of his selection to this committee assignment. After a battle royal which lasted for more than two hours, with the southerners lined up almost to a man against him, the leadership withdrew his nomination to the Committee.

In the 10 years that we have been a Member of Congress this is the first time that we have observed the refusal of either Party to deny a seat on a committee where a Member had been selected by the leadership and the Committee on Ways and Means. This action was particularly gratifying to those of us who have so bitterly and consistently fought movements such as the anti-poll tax and anti-lynch legislation which is always proposed by these left-wingers.

Melvin D. Gooden died at his home here on Friday, January 22 at 7:15 p. m. Though not in the best of health for several years his death came as a surprise to many.

Funeral services were held here Saturday at 2:30 p. m. from the Fahey Funeral Home with religious services by the Rev. Eual Samples, pastor, Main Street Methodist Church. The body was taken to Baton Rouge for interment in Roseland Memorial Park at 4 p. m. Sunday with Masonic Rites.

Mr. Gooden had made his home in Bay St. Louis since his retirement from the Standard Oil Company in Baton Rouge five years ago, and he and Mrs. Gooden made many friends here. He devoted his leisure time to the growing of flowers and home vegetable garden and his roses and other flowers drew much attention. Mr. Gooden left his wife, the former Mamie Sanders, two stepdaughters, Mrs. Thelma Rando of Baton Rouge; Mrs. Dorothy Lucas of Texarkana, Texas; a brother and two sisters Theodore Gooden of Seneca, Ohio; Mrs. P. C. Dugan of Akron, Ohio and Mrs. Homer Gilliland of Columbus, Ohio.

He was a member of the Baton Rouge Masonic Lodge No. 372.

Dancing Emphasized
Other dancing specialties in the picture are contributed by the celebrated Horton Dance Group and the Jivin' Jacks and Jills. Vocal and dancing numbers are said to have been cleverly incorporated in the story which focuses its interest on the adventures of a big-league baseball star who becomes involved in a romantic mix-up while doubling as a singer.

As the singing baseball player Jones is declared to have one of the most entertaining roles of his career. Heard in two solos, "I Don't Need Money" and the memorable "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," the popular star is also teamed vocally with Miss Frazee in several new songs written especially for the film by Dave Franklin.

Staff is Impressive
"Moonlight In Havana" was directed by Anthony Mann from the original screen play by Oscar Brodney. Charles Previn was the musical director and the dances were staged by Edward Prinz. The picture was made under the experienced associate producer of Bernard W. Burton. Photography is credited to Charles Van Enger.

MELVIN D. GOODEN
DIES AT HOME
HERE FRIDAY

Melvin D. Gooden died at his home here on Friday, January 22 at 7:15 p. m. Though not in the best of health for several years his death came as a surprise to many.

Funeral services were held here Saturday at 2:30 p. m. from the Fahey Funeral Home with religious services by the Rev. Eual Samples, pastor, Main Street Methodist Church. The body was taken to Baton Rouge for interment in Roseland Memorial Park at 4 p. m. Sunday with Masonic Rites.

Mr. Gooden had made his home in Bay St. Louis since his retirement from the Standard Oil Company in Baton Rouge five years ago, and he and Mrs. Gooden made many friends here. He devoted his leisure time to the growing of flowers and home vegetable garden and his roses and other flowers drew much attention.

Mr. Gooden left his wife, the former Mamie Sanders, two stepdaughters, Mrs. Thelma Rando of Baton Rouge; Mrs. Dorothy Lucas of Texarkana, Texas; a brother and two sisters Theodore Gooden of Seneca, Ohio; Mrs. P. C. Dugan of Akron, Ohio and Mrs. Homer Gilliland of Columbus, Ohio.

He was a member of the Baton Rouge Masonic Lodge No. 372.

Miss Dorothy Hammer, daughter of Mrs. George Hammer and the late George Hammer, has been awarded a fellowship in the School of Social Science at Louisiana State University.

Miss Hammer is a member of the graduating class at Louisiana State University and the fellowship permits her to attend any college where social science is taught, but more likely will remain at Louisiana State University.

Miss Hammer received her education at St. Joseph Academy, graduating with honors and was active in all school and athletic organizations. After her graduation, she enrolled at Louisiana State University and has been an outstanding student there, receiving the fellowship in Social Science over a large class of students.

Bay St. Louis is justly proud of Miss Hammer who resided the greater part of her life with her parents and two brothers at their home in Jefferson-Davis Avenue in Nicholson Avenue and the Echo offers its wishes for continued success in her chosen field of study.

STANISLAUS
NOTES

By Gaines Kergosien and Frank Kiefer

Well, the mid-term tests are over and every boy has received his report, either good or bad. To you with bad or mediocre report cards our advice is to buckle down and study hard because your grades will ultimately be for Uncle Sam. To you with good report cards, we congratulate you and wish to publish your name.

The Honor Roll of St. Stanislaus is as follows: Roger Boh, Levi Brown, Dan Evans, Jerome Fortenberry, Lawrence Yarbrough, Jose Perez, William Andry, Frank Thomas, Harry Bland, James Carter, Ray Guiffria, Thomas Hepler, Carlo Picciotto, Karl Fasold, Laverne Garcia, Dupre Lavigne, Frank Perrin, Charles Wilkinson, Lee Hayden, Morris Hepler, Theodore Schmidt, Edmund Shepard, Ralph St. Amant, Leo Taconi, Charles Johnson, John Greco, Andrew Martinovich, Raymond Carrio, Richard Curran, Stoney Dale, Bernard Farr, Robert Johnson, Charles Kiefer, Norbert Schmidt, Jack Delemain, Joseph Fasold, Cyril Fayard, Gerardo Kehoe, Edward Landry, George Rivero, Clement Bon Temps, John Carter, Albert Fayard, Phil Kergosien, John Kerrigan, Chas. Ladner, Levi Ladner, Domonic White, Levey Cuevas, Lucien Gex, Robert Rene, Charles Hooton, Aaron Laussee, William McDermon, Manuel Rivero, George Sada, Edwin Thomas, Thomas Aicklen, Albert Domeneque, Irvin Font, Roger Heitzmann, Leo Legault, James Tandon, John Thibault, Peter Shephard.

Last Monday Brother Romuald presented the awards offered for perfect attendance at band rehearsals and for the most hours devoted to individual practice during the six weeks term. E. J. Marengo won the gold pin offered to the student who has the most hours of individual practice. E. J. has made the enviable record of 72 1/2 hours for the six week period. This does not include the time devoted to the daily band rehearsals. Fine work, E. J. Keep it up and someday we will hear of you as an accomplished musician.

Five students drew for the perfect attendance award. They are: Karl Fasold, Edward Steiner, Laverne Garcia, Dupre Lapointe, and Joseph Fasold. Karl Fasold was the lucky winner.

Brother Romuald tells us that he is greatly pleased with the fine work that the band students are doing. He says that the spirit of the organization is splendid and that ninety per cent of the band members devote more than five hours a week on the practice of their instrument.

It will be good news for the people to know that the St. Stanislaus Band is about ready to treat them to another interesting concert. It is rumored that this program will be even better than the one presented on December 7, and that Victory Concert was mighty good.

Over Nine Million Dollars

THE NEW CONGRESS is now in session. The Nation has a right to expect, and does expect, much from this Congress. More, perhaps, than we shall get. More, perhaps, than is wise that we should get, when the Nation is at war. However, in the hearts of most of us there is no longer that gone, dismal, hopeless, "nothing-we-can-do-about-it" feeling. We see in the election of the 78th Congress a step forward on the road to sanity for this Nation—Ellett Lawrence.

Windows On New Worlds

Hair-splitting is no longer a joke with the new electron microscope, which makes visible a whole world that has previously been too small for scientists to study.

1. Using particles of electricity instead of light, the instrument makes a mosquito's stinger 1/1000 the diameter of a hair, look like this.

2. Crystals, dust particles, disease-producing viruses can be enlarged to a million times to examine their nature and structure.

3. Portable, operating from ordinary power lines, it is expected to speed war research in laboratories of colleges and war plants.

4. After the war, it may be useful in many fields—for example, in searching for the cause of such diseases as the common cold.

The Show Will Go On

The Southeast Mississippi Livestock Show will not give up their program this spring on account of war conditions. Scott County has been a leader in the development of the livestock interest and will hold their show in April as usual. Farmers are giving more attention to livestock now than ever before and the development has supplied the country with good beef cattle and at the same time has put money into the pockets of the farmers. The development and fine interest in livestock should be continued and the more beef cattle we can produce and the more milk we can supply to the country the more we can help the war effort. Even if some of the public shows have to be called off for a year or so there should be no let up in the livestock business.

Gasoline Sales Down

It has been observed that the volume of gasoline sales since rationing went into effect has dropped off approximately one-third. Gasoline tax collections in December ran about $875,000. That was probably somewhat less than an average month as many people bought all they could take care of just before rationing went in. The income from gasoline tax has been above $12,000,000 a year for the past few years. To meet outstanding highway bonds requires slightly less than four million dollars per year. The remainder goes back to the counties and to the state highway department, all for highway purposes.

This Is a Mistake

It seems that the powers that be have ruled that watermelons are in the class of non-essentials and therefore the farmers of Smith county, and other counties as to that matter, will be unable to get fertilizer this year and for that reason the watermelon crop will be small. The watermelon crop in Smith county is a major part of the farmer's production, and the fine quality of the Mississippi watermelon has created a national demand for it. Smith, Simpson, Yalobusha and other counties in the state will suffer financial loss unless something can be done for the watermelon growers.

Farm Production Program

It was announced last week that plans to sign up the farmers on the 1943 farm production program are now being put into effect. It is a follow-up of group meetings held by farmers on January 12th. Government officials are beginning now to realize just how important it is to produce a big crop in 1943. The war effort can be substantially served by the production of food crops this year. Even gardens and small patches will serve well along this line. Mr. T. G. G. M. & O. Railroad, is encouraging his employees and others along his line to plant back-yard gardens and to this end he is offering to furnish all garden seed necessary to those connected with his system. If you raise a chicken or grow a tomato this year you are helping the war effort.

12 Mississippians

A new casualty list made public last week shows 1,219 dead, wounded and missing for the period of December 16-31. In this list 12 were Mississippians. Total number of dead, wounded and missing in Navy, Marines and Coast Guards since Pearl Harbor is placed at 21,497.

The newly elected bishop is a native of Meridian, a son of the late William F. Gray, well known newspaper man and writer.

Raking Around

In the hospital at Camp Shelby with a fractured arm is Chief Black Elk, full blooded Sioux Indian, whose father and mother were present at the last stand of Gen. Custer. Examination for admittance to the state bar will be held at the Heidelberg Hotel in Jackson on February first. It has been announced that the 69th Kentucky Derby will be run on May first. A report by the treasury at Washington shows that there was allotted to Mississippi and spent in the state from 1935 to 1942 inclusive, for different forms of relief $198,833,877.47. The cold spell of last week damaged early truck in south Mississippi and many water pipes over the entire state were put out of commission. The 1943 Red Cross war fund has been placed at $125,000,000, to be raised by donations. The four convicts escaped from Parchman and at large for several days were arrested at Corinth last week, too much liquor being their undoing. The Standard Oil Company has announced that newspaper advertising for the company will be carried on regardless of war.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR MEAT GO FURTHER

Nutrition authorities say that Mrs. American Housewife's job of feeding her family is one of the most important in the war effort. For nourishing food is going a long way toward building strength and morale on the home front.

At the same time, women are being called upon to conserve food as a wartime necessity. This means they must use every ingenuity to eliminate waste and get the most out of the food they buy.

How to make their meat go further seems to be a subject of especial interest, since building morale around this food is an American tradition. So home economics experts have come to the rescue with all sorts of ideas and recipes designed to extend the meat purchase as far as possible.

Here are a few of many practical ideas along this line:

BEEF BRISKET

First meal. Brisket cooked with beans is a delicious dish for the first serving. The beans are soaked over night and brown sugar, onion and seasonings added, then placed in a covered kettle with brisket on top. Brisket and beans should be covered with water and cooked in a moderate oven for about three hours.

Second meal. Broiled toadfish, suggested for the second meal, are prepared by slicing left-over brisket and making into sandwiches. The sandwiches are dipped in beaten egg and milk and broiled until brown.

Third meal. The left-over meat from the brisket may be ground and combined with boiled rice and green peppers. These are baked in a hot oven until done—about 45 minutes.

BLADE END OF PORK LOIN

First meal. Blade end of the pork loin is excellent for a roast. The end cut is lower in price than the center cut. Roasting is easy when a few simple rules are followed. The roast should not be covered and no water added. A low temperature and combined with boiled rice and green peppers. These are baked in a hot oven until done—about 45 minutes.

Second meal. The cold slices of roast pork are delicious heated in barbecue sauce.

Third meal. The trimmings from the roast make a surprise supper dish when combined with cream sauce and served between layers and over the top of biscuits as Pork Short Cakes.

LAMB SHOULDER

First meal. A stuffed lamb shoulder is a thrifty roast. The bones may be used to season vegetables or to make soup stock. A tasty stuffing is made for it by combining whole kernel corn, cracker crumbs, seasonings and minced green pepper. The roast is placed on a rack in an open pan and about 40 minutes per pound allowed in a slow oven.

Second meal. For the next night's main dish, combine cubes of cold roast with left-over vegetables and enough gravy to hold together. Place mounds of the mixture on squares of pastry and fold over to make a triangle. Pinch the edges together. Brown in a hot oven. These are called Pasties.

Third meal. The remaining lamb "bits" may be ground and mixed with cooked oatmeal, an egg and seasonings to make Scotch Pancakes for supper or for breakfast.

Victory Gardens

FOLKS with potential garden space 30 by 50 feet or more will see the wisdom of taking their government seriously when urging the planting of a garden, and the preserving of as much fruit and vegetables as possible. Everywhere the war creates food demands which must be substantially met, despite the declining manpower available to the farms.The continued rise in food prices already up more than 40 per cent point to this appeal. A few fall gardens may be noticed around about town—with indications pointing to more spring gardens. Among those who always keep vegetables growing are: Langenstons of Waveland Beach Boulevard, Tranchinas, of Waveland avenue, McConells in Steele's sub-down on us and the usual epidemics of cold and its attending ills, this winter there has been prevalent among us a form of streptococci throat infection which occurs with severe cold and coughing.It is suggested that persons suffering from severe cold and sore throat endeavor to remain indoors in order not to spread the disease and not attend public places where the infection can so easily be spread.With the shortage of doctors and nurses due to the many required by the armed forces, one of the best ways to combat disease is to endeavby exercising extreme care by those

CADETS ENTERTAINED BY FRIENDS AT DINNER EACH SUNDAY

Each Sunday fifteen cadets from the United States Merchant Marine Cadet Training Base at Henderson Point are guests of different families for dinner.

Mrs. F. J. Trastour on last Sunday had several of the boys to dinner which they enjoyed in the lovely outdoor picnic house on the grounds of Dr. Emmett Irwin's country home on Jordan River.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith have had a number of the boys at their home on Sunday also for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Pond each Sunday have two boys for dinner and Mr. and Mrs. Scott Morrill have also had the boys, the same boys sometimes enjoying the hospitality extended them so much, they have asked for a return invitation.

Anyone who has a son in service can fill his place at the dinner table by having another mother's son, and volunteers for this good work are requested. Mrs. Alvah P. Smith is chairman of the committee in charge of placing boys who enjoy a home-cooked meal and a telephone call to Mrs. Smith at 225-R will arrange this for anyone who wishes to invite any of the boys to their home.

In several instances, letters from the parents of boys who have been guests in Bay St. Louis homes have been received thanking the hosts for the attention shown their sons.

While we know that the Army and Navy and their many branches serve the very best of foods, prepared by excellent cooks, to our men-in-service, they all miss their contact with home or the comfort of dining in a family circle and it is this that is being attempted to preserve for the boys away from home.

Quoting the Jackson Clarion-Ledger: "In the women's pair event, Mrs. Rhea Bonck and Mrs. Tom Casey of New Orleans deprived the defending champions Mrs. Martha Murphy and Mrs. Mildred Ratliff of Jackson from repeating by only a small score." Mrs. Bonck who owns a home in Bay View Court is well known participating in all civic, social and charitable events, and her many friends will be pleased to hear of her success in this bridge tournament.

Services Rendered
By Nurses

Anyone who heard last Sunday afternoon's NBC broadcast telling of the important and marvelous services being rendered by nurses in the war can't help but appreciate the importance of our young women entering training and helping to fill the great need for nurses both in the war zones and in hospitals at home.

Each Sunday afternoon throughout the months of January and February the National Broadcasting Company will broadcast an interesting program relating the experiences of nurses with our boys abroad and it is suggested that persons at home listen to it.

No one could help but thrill to the story heard on Sunday afternoon, January 18th, relating how an Army nurse with the forces in Bataan succeeded in dragging two wounded soldiers across a section which was being attacked by Japanese snipers to safety and to an emergency hospital equipped in the jungles where emergency treatment saved both their lives.

Or to the ultimate rescue of twenty Army nurses on Bataan after every hope of escape or rescue had been abandoned and they had been called upon to decide whether they would rather be shot by their own soldiers, or fall prisoners to the Japanese, and how at the eleventh hour they had managed to escape under fire to a boat which brought them to safety.

With four of our own girls, graduates of our local schools, volunteers as nurses with our forces, namely Lieutenants Juliette Perre, Audrey Quintini, Alice Vivian Evans and Margie Rose Fayard, the seniors in our high schools may well give thought to the opportunity offered them for a glorious career in that chosen field—the professional nurse—one which is permitted to enter where only the doctor and minister may—and assist in bringing life into the world and administering at its close.

A recent recruit writing back home, stated: "It is really grand being here and if the other nurses could just know all about it, you would be swamped with applications. We sleep under mosquito bars over our beds and tucked under our mattresses. We live in tents, five to a tent, work in tents, twenty beds to a tent. There are only two things that are not ideal—Mosquitoes and mud, but the government has issued outfits which combat both successfully. They are regular soldiers' suits with khaki pants and shirts, canvas leggings, and high shoes. When it rains we wear rubber boots that come up to our knees and raincoats that come to our ankles."
